case study

new media, new home

client / location:

Scottish Media Group (SMG), Glasgow.

challenge:

the brief for eastlake commercial interiors (eci) and wave was to create a new working environment – a state of the art office building. located in the heart of Glasgow's media park – Pacific Quay.

solution:

The solution was an integrated installation with:

- bespoke AV design to reflect the specific needs of the broadcaster
- 4 AMX controlled executive boardrooms, featuring true HD plasma and SDI feeds
- 120" rear projection boardroom with Christie Digital projection
- bespoke reception media wall
- 8 plasma equipped breakout rooms
- zoneable audio within building and weatherproof speakers for external areas
- holoscreen featuring welcome display and up to the minute news feeds

benefits:

- the simple control of the varied content on all of the different displays

The wave team were able to help with all training involved in usage of the new systems and on-going maintenance and technical support.
